

A FLOWER PATCH FOR OUR FORGOTTEN FRIENDS

BEES

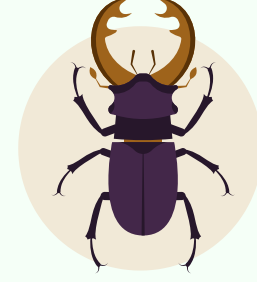

WASPS

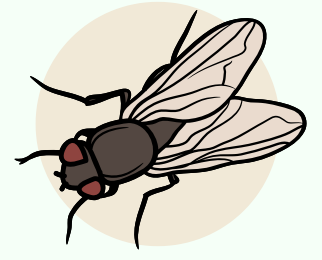

BUTTERFLIES

MOTHS

BETLES

FLIES

In order to provide for a variety of insect pollinators, given their diversity, plants must be able to benefit them in different ways. Here are some Quebec native/naturalized plants that can provide a nectar source and/or act as a larval host for insect pollinators. The plants are organized based on their blooming periods. The suggested blooming times are ranges and can vary slightly depending on the location within Quebec.

